SPATIAL / SET AND PRODUCT DESIGNER

Hi! I'm Capucine, a French multidisciplinary designer.

In my spare time, you'll often find me sketching or behind my camera lens. I have a deep love for the wild - both through outdoor adventures and wildlife documentaries. I feel most alive when I'm out exploring nature.

Now more than ever, I aspire to create work that has purpose : using design as a tool for positive change, particularly in ocean conservation and education. My practice is grounded in research, awareness, and action, staying true to the values I embraced during my studies: intentional design, knowledge sharing, and social impact.

As an experiential designer, I believe in using art as a tool to translate scientific knowledge into emotionally resonant experiences, making research more accessible and raising awareness among broader audiences.
